IT SERVICES

E-mail

Panevėžio kolegija/State Higher Education Institution provides e-mail boxes on the principle of name.surname@panko.lt.

All relevant information is sent only to the college e-mail address. E-mail mailboxes are available at gmail.panko.lt (or gmail.com).

Each group has its own shared group email, to which students studying in that group are included.

After the student finishes (or discontinues) studies, the mailbox is deleted, so use this mailbox only for study purposes.

Together with the mailbox provided by the college, you get the right to use a remote drive (Google Drive) and other services provided by the system.

Academic information system AKADIS

The academic information system is available at akadis.panko.lt, the system contains the following information:

- Diary – Grades;
- Orders – Certificate orders;
- Choices – Choices of educational subjects;
- Forum.

Connections to the system are sent to the college email. by mail. If you do not receive logins, if you notice or encounter system errors, please report them to akadis@panko.lt.

IT Services

Internet connection

Wireless connection works in almost all higher education institutions connected to the Eduroam network:

- Wireless connection name – eduroam;
- Login user – your e-mail. email address at the college (vardas.pavarde@panko.lt);
- Login password – AKADIS password.

Students can use the wireless internet connection free of charge in the college premises. This internet connection is provided for study purposes only, so sharing your account and letting outsiders use it is prohibited.

Any of your devices can connect to the wireless network. It should be noted that computers or other devices infected with viruses can be disconnected from the Internet without warning.

Materials for students

The material intended for students is available in the virtual learning environment (VMA) "Moodle" at the address: vma.panko.lt (registration is independent by pressing the "Google login" button). It is possible to register by specifying the college email only!

After logging in, select your faculty and teacher, there you will see the subjects presented by the teacher and the materials uploaded to them. The taught subjects are protected by different one-time registration keys (passwords), which are provided by the subject teacher.

IT Services

Access to schedules

All student schedules are posted in the VMA environment. To view your group's schedule, the registration key is provided in the description next to the group's schedule.

Office 365

In Office 365 you can work with Microsoft Office documents (eg: Word, Excel, PowerPoint) in your browser. You have access to OneDrive data storage, where you can save your files (Office documents, PDFs, photos, etc.) . From the Office 365 website, you can download the software (Office 365 ProPlus, Skype for Business, OneDrive for Business) to your devices (you can use the Office software on a total of 5 devices).

How to get started with Office 365:

1. Open the Office 365 website: <https://www.office.com>;
2. Log in: name.surname@panko.lt; password (received by email).
